Associated British Ports

Welcome to the Autumn Newsletter!

Welcome to our Autumn round-up of all things Thinking Space! We've been keeping busy to avoid the wet and windy weather over the last couple of months. This edition of our newsletter includes details of some recent installations, visits from overseas agents, charity events, new recruits and a day all at sea! We hope you enjoy!

Project Overview:

Thinking Space recently completed a control room for Associated British Ports in Southampton on behalf of our client A&A Business Supplies. The 5 single operator height adjustable consoles included some fantastic features listed below.

Features

- Illuminated footwell with leds
- Task lighting,
- Flip over desktop mounted power supply units
- Illuminated end panels featuring the company logo.

WELCOME TO...

Our staff numbers continue to increase at Thinking Space. In the last couple of months Harry and Lewis have joined Izabela's shop floor team; they have quickly got themselves up to speed with the manufacturing side of our technical furniture solutions.

Charity Event

Walk the Test Way

Some of our amazing team joined 545 other walkers at 'Walk the Test Way' to support George's Trust, a charity that provides an important lifeline for teenagers. We walked 12 miles in mixed weather, raising an impressive £370.00 (and counting) for this fantastic charity! Big congratulations to the team.

Solent Sailing

A day at Sea on the Solent!

At the end of September, our sister company Key Yachting hosted our friends at Secure Logiq, for a day of sailing on the Solent! Our extended thanks go to Bill and Wayne, for skippering the motley crew and to Neil for being cabin boy! A great day was had, we hope Hamish, Ben, Geoff and Rob have all recovered enough to do it again next year!

Visits

Visit from Raul

At the end of September, we were delighted to welcome a visit from our friend Raul Boza! Raul is the Thinking Space representative for the region of Central and Southern America. In recent years, Raul has been working very hard to spread the awareness of Thinking Space in his part of the world. It was a pleasure to catch up with Raul and run through our latest product developments and discuss the latest opportunities with him!
